SANTA FE TRAIL SCHOOL

Volume 2
1967-68

The Proposed Building for USD 434

THOMAS D. HOTCHKISS
Supt. of
Santa Fe Trail School

The TRIANGLE attempted to record the 1967-68 school history without bias. Work began on the 1967-68 yearbook after an eight hour rest from the previous yearbook. In July, the Board of Education selected the name, SANTA FE TRAIL for the unified school district. The new building will be located on the old Santa Fe Trail, now Highway 56. The bond issue carried 760 to 480 on April 6, the third election.

The faculty is pictured as listed in the Employee's Handbook.

An effort was made to consolidate as many school organizations as possible.

The various activities for seniors is recorded on page 138 by school centers.

The staff sold advertisement in August. Each attendance center had its own salesmen. The Triangle is supported by advertising and subscriptions.

Driver Education was offered during the summer as well as the Remedial Reading and a Physical Fitness program. Adult Education was introduced and classes are pictured in this issue.

Advisers to the Triangle were LaVerna Harmon, Ray Shirley, and C. Kennedy Swender.

Many come into our life, but few come into our heart to stay. Friendship is a blessing from God, and is a common need of man-kind. The love and devotion of a true friend is the dearest thing in all the world.

Many compliments can be credited to the yearbook staff. All were kind, courteous, thoughtful, and co-operative. All assumed their obligations with the determination to be proud of a job well done.

The 1967-68 TRI-ANGLE is the fruit of this labor, and is dedicated to better understanding of all age levels with a more united school spirit.

Homecoming Queen

Royalty

Roland Ullery, Donald Schooler
Julia Modin, Connie Weeks, Susan Rowe

Connie Weeks was crowned queen of the Scranton homecoming on October 27 by King Donald Schooler. Later King Don and Queen Connie reigned over the homecoming dance held in the Scranton gym. Music was provided by Sonny and the Soul Kings. The Scranton Colts were victorious over the Queneimo Buffaloes.

The Homecoming game was played October 6 between the Vikings and the Lyndon Tigers. Team and team followers tried their best but the final score was 7-0, in favor of the Tigers. After the game, which was played under very dismal weather conditions, a dance was held in the gym. It was sponsored by the Pep Club. The Essence of Time provided the music.

SHE DIDN'T BELIEVE (CHRISTMAS PROGRAM)

The Little Toy Train

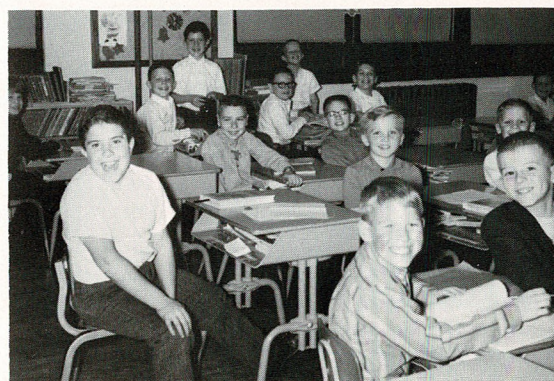

Wind-up Toys

Cast

The grade school under the direction of Judith Ticknor presented SHE DIDN'T BELIEVE by Catherine Christie on December 19th. The setting was Christmas time on the beach. Dorothy, played by Rebecca Tucker, didn't believe in Christmas. She came to Florida with her family for the holiday season. Due to the influence of the Christmas spirit by the elves, dolls, poinsettias, trains, mistletoe, holly, wind-up toys, Santa Claus of the street, gifts, jumping jacks, housewives, and the merchants, Dorothy finally believed.

Each of these items or persons were portrayed by a special group or by a grade class.

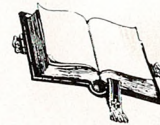

Just Waiting.

FRANCES ANN VAWTER

I come to the garden alone
While the dew is still on the roses
And the voice I hear falling on my ear
The son of God discloses.

And he walks with me and he talks with me
And he tells me I am his own
And the joy we share as we tarry there
None other has ever known.

In Memoriam

JUDITH LYNN JENEREAUX

So young, so lovely and so innocent,

She came to live, in suffering and pain.

God called her home, as in His will he meant,

That she might dwell in peace and love again.

Santa Fe Trail Music

The vocal and instrumental music department of Santa Fe Trail presented a Christmas Concert in each Center.

Numbers were by the band and mixed chorus. Each ensemble furnished special selections.

Mixed Chorus

Norman L. Good has a Carbondale and Overbrook Center band. He shares the talents of the combined band in public appearances.

This band performed at Mid-America Fair, Topeka; General Walt Day, Harveyville; Overbrook and Osage City fairs; and gave a spring Music Concert.

Carbondale Ensemble

Scranton Ensemble

Overbrook

Carbondale and Overbrook each have a Stage Band, the Pep Band is composed of high school and grades at Carbondale, but high school students form the Pep Band in Overbrook.

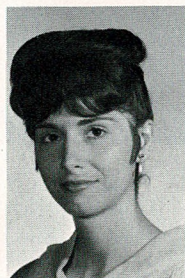

Scranton Center has a few instruments but no formally organized band.

Drivers Education was held during the summer because the present schedule doesn't allow for a one semester course.

The class was arranged so each received the minimum state requirement of hours for credit in the course. Each student had thirty hours of classroom study and six of actual driving experience in six weeks.

This course was not designed to make pupils perfect drivers, but to teach the correct way to drive and let each develop his own style.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Business courses are an essential part of high school education; they prepare for the business world, act as a main cog in the wheel of education, and are useful throughout life.

More than 50% of the school enroll in business courses and three-fourths plan to take office positions upon graduation.

Courses offered are Bookkeeping 1 & 2, Shorthand 1, General Business, and Typewriting 1 & 2. LaVerna Harmon, Kenneth Swender, and Ray Shirley instruct the business classes. Text-books have been chosen for a five year rental system.

Adult Education program was initiated in Santa Fe Trail School District when sufficient interest was shown.

Permission for such a program was given by the Board of Education.

The courses selected met for two hours in the evening once a week for approximately twelve weeks. The first meeting was the week of January 15, 1968.

A class of clothing, two sections of typewriting, one in physical education for women and an accounting period was held in the various buildings.

These courses were supported by fees.

Santa Fe Trail District observed Parent-Teacher Conference Monday, November 27, 1967. Each teacher followed regular classroom hours, but students were not present.

Grade teachers made appointments to discuss pupil progress with parents. Many high school parents welcomed the opportunity to meet the faculty, to learn the school's program, and to see the part her child played in the plan.

Physical fitness and remedial reading courses, both recreational and educational were financed by the school district.

Physical fitness program opened by a physical examination and the President's Physical Fitness test--closed in the same manner. The test showed an improvement in health and growth. Activities included a variety of outdoor sports, one gymnastics taught in the school gym, swimming classes were held in Overbrook's pool for recreational and not instructional purposes.

The SRA plan in remedial reading was followed by Mrs. Bertha Dawson and LaVerna Harmon at Carbondale; Mrs. Kathleen Rose and Kathy Jones at Overbrook; and Mrs. Winnie Dean and Joanne Kaff at Scranton. Three tests were used to determine a Reading program.

Nutritious and appetizing lunches were served by Mrs. Sarah Haas, Carbondale; Mrs. Edna Cox, Overbrook; and Mrs. Helen Shepard at Scranton.

David Tenpenny, Carbondale; James Orth, Overbrook; and Richard Doze at Scranton supervised the Physical Fitness program. Virginia Armstrong and Nancy Tobias edited this section of THE TRIANGLE.

Jack Bronson, director of TITLE I held a conclave with teachers, aides and secretary, Mrs. Viola Fulton to discuss the value of the eight weeks work. The high light was his movie of the project.

The summer school differed from winter school: in two hours for a subject, free lunches, teachers had aides, wearing of shorts or jeans, rooms were air conditioned, and no supplies were owned.
